Description:

This boy has been a stand out since the second he was born [see picture]. He has always stood with great prescence and displayed great bone substance as he has grown. His Fleece has always been impressive with excellent fineness, density, uniformity and coverage over all his frame. His first fleece had an impressive 17.7% of fibres being under 15 micron which considering out of a black female is superb. His mothers incredible good nature has been passed on and Nugget is exceptionally easy to handle and has a wonderful playful nature. He has great potential for a coloured breeder! I would hope he will start work later this summer. unfortunately he is related to my dark females hence the reluctant sale.
