Description:

Sheer Speculation exhibits perfect conformation in every way. She is a stylish, well proportioned young female with a very pretty head type.

She carries good uniformity of micron throughout her fleece, into the brisket and under the belly. She has a very good secondary to primary ratio with no strong primary fibres. Her fleece is fine with very good density and fleece length resulting in a skirted blanket fleece weight of 2.35kgs

Her sire is the multi-supreme champion winner Beck Brow First Edition, who has had some outstanding progeny born in 2019/20. He and his 3 full sisters are a key part of our core herd.

Add to all that the fact that Sheer Speculation is pregnant to the awesome Beck Brow Blaze of Glory and this really is an opportunity not to be missed.

The cross of First Edition genetics x Blaze of Glory have already produced some outstanding cria who can be seen at Beck Brow.
