Description:

WB Excalibur is registered with the British Alpaca Society as a solid dark brown huacaya male. He is a young intact weanling, with an inquisitive and gentle disposition. As the photographs demonstrate, he is very handsome, with a strong compact frame and very attractive head type! Phenotypically, WB Excalibur is true to type, with a strong bone structure, correct conformation and bite, and a very desirable short nose.

His fleece is ultra fine and dense, with a good staple length and coverage, and displays both a very good level of brightness and character. It is beautifully bright and soft (see fleece statistics), so could be spun to produce some exquisite yarn. Excalibur has a kind temperament and is currently being halter trained for ease of care and owner enjoyment. He is being sold as a non-breeding male, and as such would make a superb fibre producer, or with his good looks, an eye-catching grass trimmer!

Alpacas have strong herd social instincts and so need to be kept in a group of at least two, but preferably three or more for their own well-being. They are increasingly being used as flock guardians for sheep or chickens as they have an inherent dislike for foxes!

Excalibur is for sale with his two friends Cyclone (white) and Flapjack (brown). Please refer to other listings for further details or go to www.willowbrookalpacas.com.
