Beschreibung:

Magnolia really is a top of the class female.

Our best bred light female of 2020 and a real standout. Her fleece is exceptionally dense, very fine and uniform through with a very stylish fleece which goes all the way down into her extremities.

She stands on a very strong frame and is well grown for her age so we expect her to be mature enough for breeding late summer this year.

Magnolia would have been in our National show team which unfortunately has been cancelled but we expect her intermediate fleece to come back just as impressive - if not better! So plenty of showing opportunities in her yet.

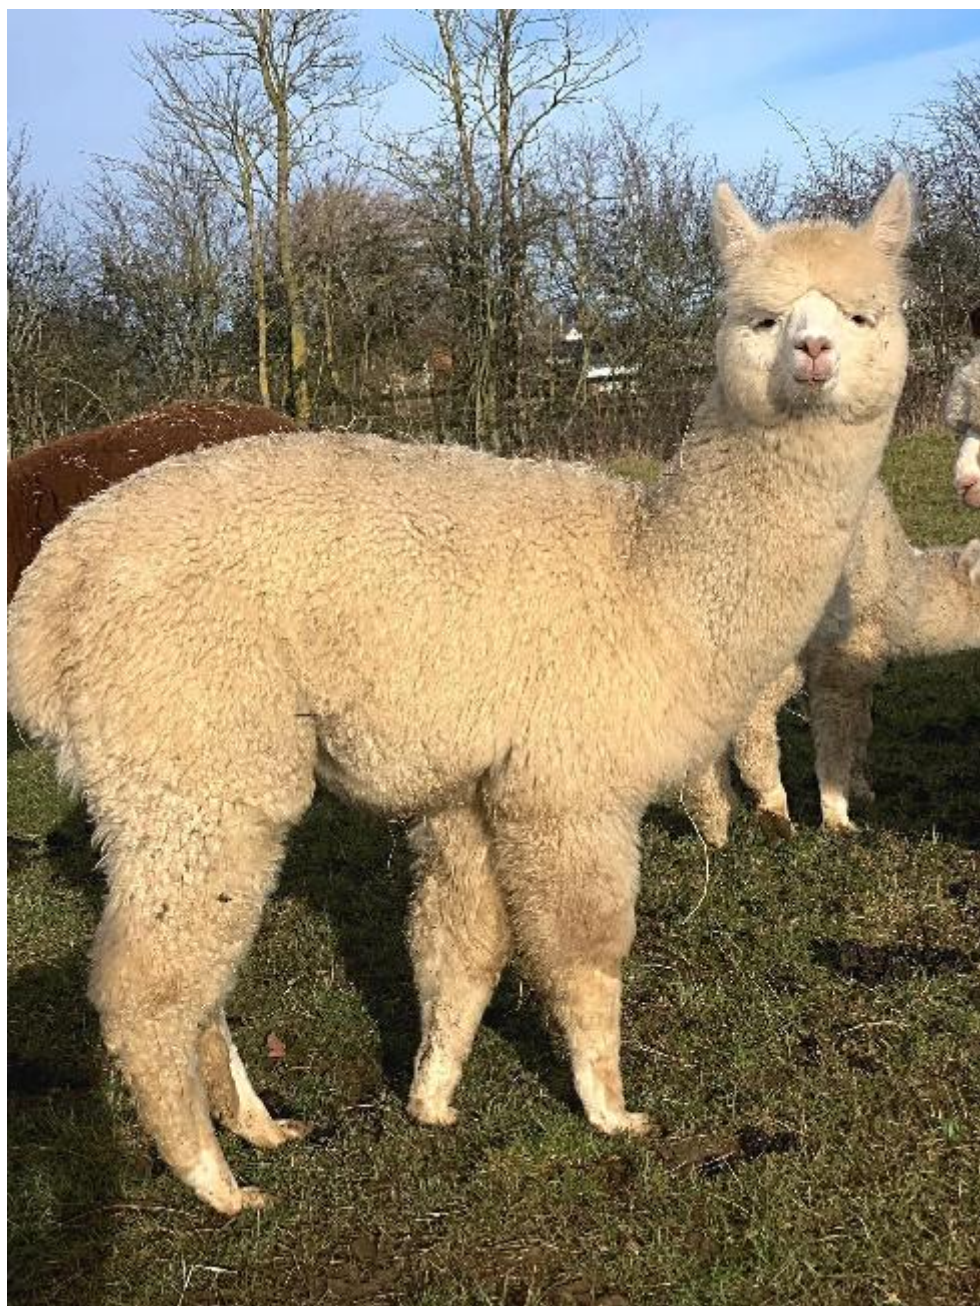

She is from two of our best Alpacas, Sired by our multiple supreme champion sire 'The General' And out of Houghton Masterpiece who is a multiple champion brown female.

She would suit either the white or coloured breeder and she has plenty of variety in her genetics. This girl would make a special addition to an existing or new breeder wanting to improve their herd.

A real reluctance in selling this special female, the only reason we are willing to part with her is because we have her sire, her dam and her brother who will be joining our stud row this year. So we would end up with too many with the same genetics!
