Description:

WOW, what a male. If you want to add some striking looks and genetics to your her then Grenade would be a great addition. We have used Grenade over a few females this year and they have been scanned pregnant.

With such a solid frame, thick bone structure, and dense fleece, there is nothing not to love about this boy. The quality of his fleece, as you can see by his results, is up there with the best. Such density but holding the fineness and low micron. Conformation is sound, with a straight back, brilliant head type, straight legs on the front and back, and his proportions all correct.

We still have Grenades dam, who is a very striking appaloosa, she always produces fast growing cria, and we hope this trait will be passed on to Grenades offspring.

UNBEATEN AT SHOWS - This boy is going to produce some next level cria.....
