Description:

Haley is a strong white female with an ultrafine fleece which is both dense and soft handling. She is very well balanced in her frame and proportion displaying good presence.

Haley is one of the first Ashwood Lanson daughters to be released and should pass on his exceptional genetics which made him a multi champion and twice supreme champion. Lanson has the ability to greatly improve the fleece characteristics of his cria over their dam, this proved to be the case with Hayley's dam Rivenherd Ella. Haley is a well grown young female with correct conformation ready to begin her breeding career.

Haley can be sold separately if going to an existing herd and is also included in a package of other yearling females.
