Description:

Introducing Molina (AHH1475), a captivating alpaca with a remarkable presence. At 7 years old, this stunning female boasts an impressive combination of desirable characteristics that make her a true gem in the alpaca world.

Molina's fleece is a testament to perfection, featuring a high frequency crimp that catches the eye with every glance. Its exceptionally low micron ensures a luxuriously soft touch, while the density and compactness of her coat are second to none.

As a female alpaca, Molina possesses the potential to enhance any breeding program with her outstanding genetics. Whether you're seeking to improve crimp structure, reduce fiber micron, or increase fleece density, Molina is the perfect choice.

Don't miss the opportunity to add this exceptional alpaca to your herd. Molina's grace, beauty, and high-quality fleece will undoubtedly leave a lasting impression. Get in touch with us today and seize this chance to welcome Molina into your alpaca family!

Number of Crias bred from female: 2
