Description:

Maquis Découverte is a very high quality white female with impressive genetics bringing great predictability.

She is a very well developed female with a robust frame and a splendid head. She has a small fawn spot on her left side.

She is also a very good mother, producing each year a cria of +/- 9kg with very good growth.

His father CasCadNac Farm Talon is an excellent American male from one of the best breeding farms in the USA. He is a champion himself, son of SuperNova and out of a champion female herself.

On the side of her mother CME Cecilia, it is also a super impressive winning list because she is the daughter of the great Dovecote Jaquinto, multiple champion and who has even won Supreme Champion Sire of the prestigious BAS Futurity Show in England.

Cecilia, herself, had huge success in the show ring with no less than 4 championship titles!

Découverte has also had good results in competitions and produces very good quality crias. One of her daughters is in the herd of the Prince of Qatar, another of his daughters produces very good crias for our farm.

She was bred again by Maquis Francorchamps, our super dense fawn studmale.

Her fleece... need we talk about it? Look at the histograms! She is super impressive with an AFD still at 19 microns at her 9th shearing with exceptional uniformity within the sample and within the fleece. She has a fawn spot on the left side but all her crias are solid.
