Description:

Beautiful and sweet pregnant alpaca female, almost 6 years old. Her first 2 female foals can still be viewed here since they are gonna stay with us. Expecting her 3th cria early May 2025, she will not be transported before that date.

Come and see and be informed how great alpacas are and what you should know about keeping these animals.

All animals are chipped, registered, vaccinated and only go to serious enthusiasts who can offer a good home.

We will inform and guide you in this if you are not yet familiar with these animals.

Alpaca Reckheim has been breeding alpacas for over 12 years, regularly participates in alpaca shows and follows courses, shears alpacas, and is a recognized therapy animal supervisor with alpacas.

Tip: buy from an experienced breeder, where you can view the parent animals and offspring and who gives a fertility guarantee, if you would like to have foals.

Are you buying from a dealer? And does your purchased mare not have a foal or does the stallion turn out to be infertile? Or do the animals turn out not to have been vaccinated and do they get sick as a result? Then you are often out of luck... and your hard-earned money is gone...
