Beschreibung:

The judge at the BAS National show said “you can see what he’s been put on this earth for” and I have to agree. Olek’s genetics and personal attributes have the ability to elevate the quality of a herd. His conformation is faultless, even down to his fleece covered true-to-type head, which is no doubt down to his Snowmass and Fowberry Nobility genetics. As you’d expect, his fleece has been consistently fine and uniform, with a beautiful handle. I particularly value the colour consistency of his fleece throughout the saddle and beyond. His first cria arrived in June 2025, her baby fleece at 14.3micron and 3.1SD. This underscores his desirability as a herd sire.
