Description:

Bozedown Indigo is a lovely, upstanding female exhibiting excellent conformation and presence. Her fleece is beautifully soft handling, with a low micron and an impressive combination of length, density, and uniformity. Indigo carries an abundance of fleece that is well aligned and consistent in both colour and fineness — a true reflection of her quality genetics.

Indigo has been mated to the multiple award-winning Champion male Bozedown Secret Service, renowned for his outstanding conformation and superior fleece characteristics. With this pairing, we anticipate an exceptional cria combining the best traits from both sire and dam.

A superb opportunity to acquire a high-quality pregnant female with outstanding genetic potential.
