Mullacott Hattie is a very pretty, sweet-natured breeding female with eye-catching Appaloosa genetics, including bloodlines from Popham, Inca, and Pentney. She is a proven breeding female and an exceptional mother, demonstrating excellent maternal instincts and calm, attentive behaviour with her cria.

Hattie's even, gentle temperament makes her a real stand-out female within the herd. She is an excellent choice for breeders looking to produce fancy or Appaloosa cria, combining reliable genetics with an easy-to-handle nature.

She has been trained using the well-respected Camelidynamics methods, making routine husbandry tasks straightforward and stress-free. Hattie is halter trained and walks confidently on a lead rein, making her suitable for both experienced breeders and those newer to alpacas.

Offered for sale at a discounted price of £1,000, representing excellent value for a proven Appaloosa breeding female. Further discounts are available if purchased with any of our other females currently for sale. Her cria, Morzine, is also available as a weanling, offering a lovely dam-and-offspring opportunity.

Hattie would be a valuable and rewarding addition to any quality breeding herd.
