Description:

Poppywood Timothy is an 18 month old quiet, sweet little male who has been used on some of our experiences. He walks well, eats from everyone's hands and has been out and about to events last summer. Timothy is still entire and has the potential to be a lovely little stud male in the future. His small, compact body style, neat little head and soft fleece along with his impressive genetics and calm temperament make him the perfect package. He is out of one of Ashwood Jet Setter's daughters (Leven Valley Jazmyn) and by Putjade Joseph (grey) giving him a super mix of sought after genetics.

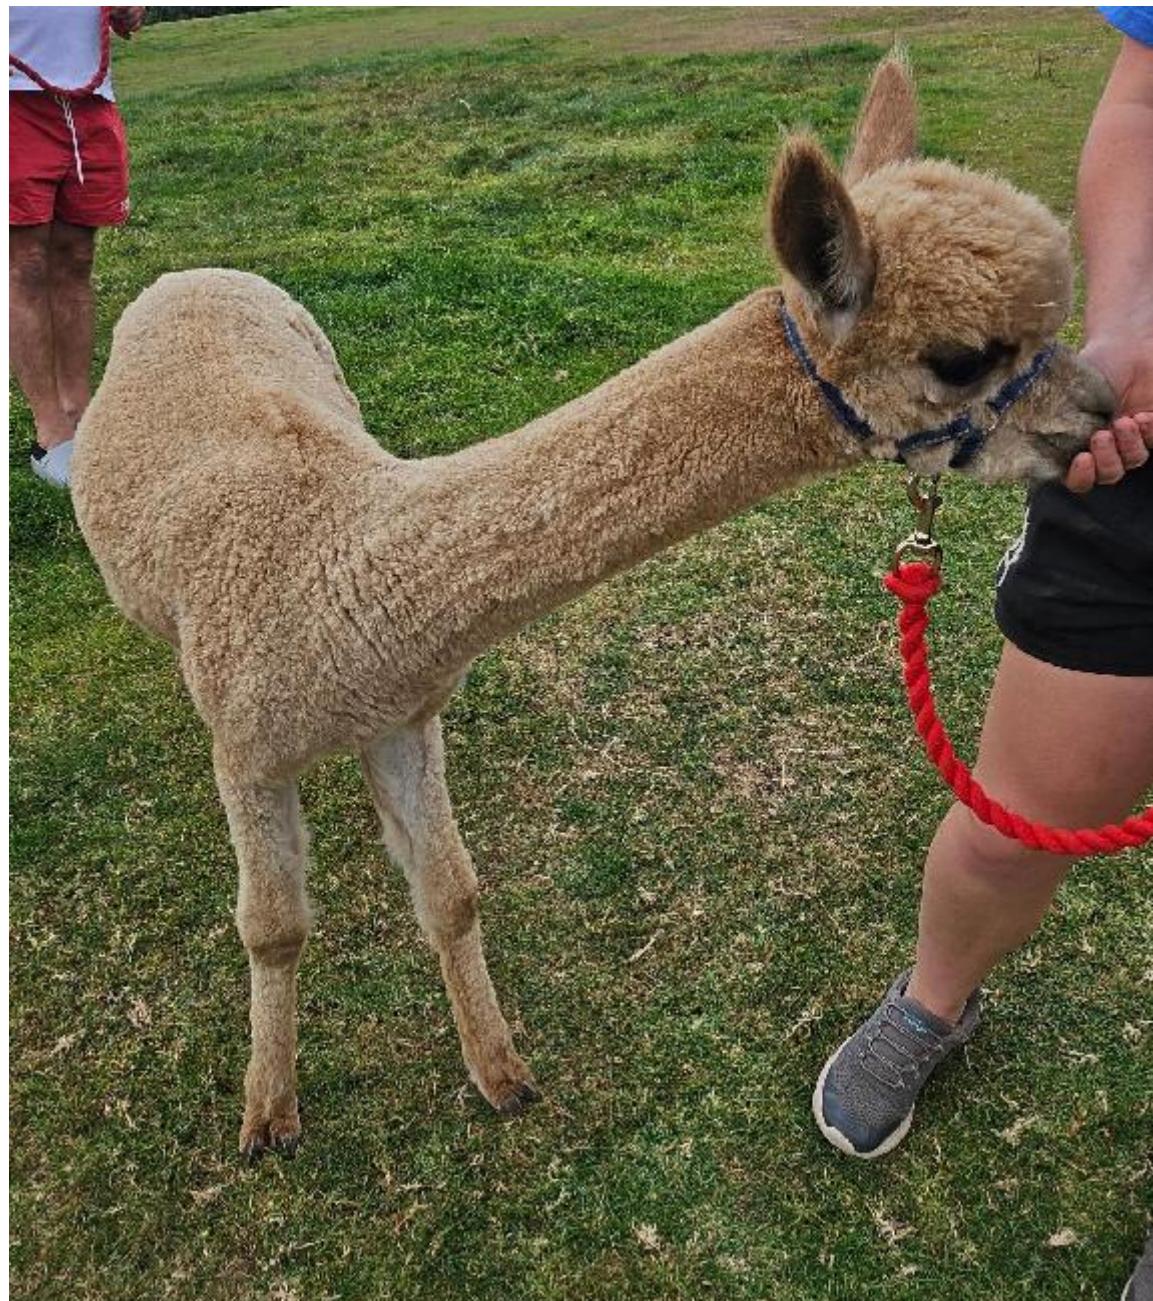

Timothy is up to date with all husbandry.

Timothy can only be sold to a home with other males, preferably of similar ages although he has lived in a herd of 30 males of various ages with no issues. Alpacas need to be in a minimum of 3 to form a group as they are social herd animals. We do have 3 other males available to form a group if required.
