Description:

Patchilles (aka Patches) is a truly eye-catching Appaloosa weanling male alpaca, boasting a stunning spotted fleece pattern that makes him stand out from the crowd. His unique colouring, combined with his strong frame and balanced conformation, makes him a fantastic addition to any herd.

He is well-grown for his age, with a bright, alert nature and a friendly, inquisitive temperament. Regularly handled, he is calm and easy to manage and halter training is already in progress.

His fleece shows great promise, with good density and a soft handle, offering potential for both fibre production and future breeding.

He is healthy, fully vaccinated, microchipped and up to date with routine care.

Ideally, because of his age he will be sold with a friend or two. I have several other weanlings for sale, of various colours and prices, and a discount will be given for a group purchase. No VAT.
