Description:

Augustus Faunius, affectionately known as Auggie is a lovely fawn male weanling with alert, bright eyes and inquisitive nature.

He has been fully vaccinated, is up to date with routine care and is in excellent health, making him a low-maintenance addition to any herd.

Auggie carries a soft, attractive fawn fleece and is growing well, with good conformation for his age. He would thrive in a home where he can continue to develop alongside other alpacas, benefiting from companionship and proper care.

Ideally he will be sold with a couple (or more!) of his mates, with a package discount.

Member of the BAS trusted seller scheme and ongoing support will be readily available to anyone new to alpaca keeping.
