Description:

Canute is a simply stunning young fawn huacaya. He carries a wonderfully fine and soft handling fleece with impressive density. His 2014 Shearing result came back at an impressive 16.4 micron. He has a solid frame with correct conformation. This young male will be an asset to any discerning breeder. He has been shown as both an intermediate and adult male resulting in his being awarded multiple rosettes. Canute is an excellent example of Snowmass Royal Vision at his very best. His progeny have excelled to date.
