Description:

Camber is a standout male looking very much like the ideal alpaca in his conformational traits. He is well-balanced with good strength of bone with an extremely attractive head type and great fleece coverage.

He has an extremely fine fleece with excellent uniformity of micron within the staple (SD of 2.7 second fleece). Camber also has a very good level of density resulting in a very organised fleece style, which exhibits small staples with a highly defined crimp.

Camber brings with him highly performing genetics including Lavender Park Tulley and Bozedown Neo.

We were delighted to have him join our stud team in 2024 and have not been disappointed with the resulting off-spring.

Capital Camber is in-house only.
