Description:

The Duke of Ellington has an outstanding pedigree and one which is very different to the other black Suri genetics in the UK currently!!

His sire is Sirius Black, and his grandsire is the legendary MacGyver.

Sirius Black is one of the premier Suri herd sires in the United States. He remains the only black Suri to have won the National Championship two years in a row. A full Peruvian son of MacGyver, Sirius Black has been widely described as "the most incredible black Suri I have ever seen." He is a true ink-black male, renowned for his density, lustre, and independently locked fleece right down to the skin.

The Duke's granddam, Peruvian Starlette, has produced seven champion offspring, including full siblings to Sirius Black—Celestina, Synergy, and MacGyverson. His grandsire MacGyver himself is a legend, having been named Herd Sire of the Year for an unprecedented seven consecutive years.

His fleece is still showing great lustre and regrowth with good density at 15 years old. He is raring to go!
